President's Message

By the time this yearbook is published, the statistics of the Class of 2001 will be history. For the past four years we have competed together, on teams and in groups, and also, against each other for positions, ranks and honors. These experiences defined our differences and sometimes distanced us from one another.

Regardless of what each of us accomplished in high school, one thing we had in common was laughter. We used it every chance we could and everywhere . . . on the bus, in class, at lunch, in the halls, at our lockers, in the locker room, on the field, on trips, at games, at dances, everywhere. Nothing could stop the spontaneity of us laughing out loud at the sane and insane moments of a typical high school day. The times we laughed together gave us common ground and coping skills, memories and hope.

Despite all the changes that are happening in our lives right now, some constants will remain. There will always be some place, like your job, or college, where you will have to compete. And there will always be someone, like your boss, or a friend, who expects more of you than you think you can give. My hope is that you will always keep your sense of humor with you, because it might help you through life like it's helped you through high school. Live the day, and savor the laughter.

Mike

Afterglow

I'd like the memory of me
to be a happy one,
I'd like to leave an afterglow
of smiles when life is done.
I'd like to leave an echo
whispering softly down the ways,
Of happy times and laughing
times and bright and sunny days.
I'd like the tears of those who grieve, to dry before the sun
Of happy memories that I leave
When life is done

Enjoy this yearbook. Then, put it on a shelf and don't look at it for awhile. Go out and live your life. Make the most out of your accomplishments.

Then, many years from now take this yearbook off the shelf. As you look through the pages, you'll return to your years in high school. Remember the tears of your final game, or the laughter of the rallies. Remember the last song at the prom or walking across the graduation stage. Remember how when it was all over, you went to your closest friends and exclaimed, "We did it!"

We, along with the rest of the yearbook staff, hope that this yearbook captures those memories for you. We put many long hours into this, running around selling advertisements and collecting pictures. But we couldn't do it alone. Without the help of Gary Geoffroy at Chestnut Hills Studio and Norv Garnett from Jostens this yearbook would not have been possible. Most importantly, we'd like to thank Mr. Richard LaMothe for all the guidance, dedication, time, and effort he puts into the yearbook each and every year.

It's finally over. Enjoy the memories, and never forget all that you've achieved during your time at Somerset High School. As you go out and live the rest of your life, remember that this yearbook will always be there, waiting to take you on a journey back to your high school days.

Our Best Wishes
For Success

On election night, several TV networks prematurely declare Al Gore the winner in Florida, only later to reverse themselves, twice. The fiasco confirms many Americans' distrust of polling and early "calling" of elections.

In one of his first duties as President-elect, George W. Bush nominates Colin Powell to be Secretary of State. The four-star Army General becomes the first African-American in history to serve in this role.

▲ Chads, dimpled chads and butterfly ballots become common terms during the election as Florida officials assess voter intent. The confusion generates national discussion for uniform methods of voting.

▲ The U.S. Supreme Court casts the deciding vote in the nation's election. The court ends the Gore-Bush legal battles in Florida by stopping all recounting, an action that effectively gives Bush victory.

▲ In a fiery and highly publicized political battle, Hillary Rodham Clinton beats Republican Rick Lazio decisively to become senator from New York. She is the first first lady to be elected to public office.

▲ Missouri Governor Mel Carnahan is elected to the Senate days after he dies in a November plane crash. His widow, Jean Carnahan, agrees to serve as senator in his place.

▲ In October, the USS Cole is bombed while refueling in Yemen. A number of terrorist groups are suspected of the blast that kills 17 sailors and injures 39.

▼ The Federal Trade Commission charges the film, recording and video-game industries with marketing violent and adult-rated materials to teens. The entertainment giants are requested to stop the practice or face legal intervention.
